DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

1. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freiman (3,231,076). Freiman '076 discloses a canister assembly comprising: a box having a bottom wall and a base sidewall extending outwardly from said bottom wall around an outer periphery of said bottom wall, said lid having a top wall and a lid sidewall extending outwardly from said top wall around an outer periphery of said top wall, said lid dimensioned so that said lid sidewall overlies said base sidewall and forms a box having an interior chamber that is capable of containing a biological specimen, a pair of U-shaped clips (clips 12), each having a base leg and two spaced apart side legs, said clips insertable over opposed sides of said box so that one side leg of each clip overlies said top wall, the other leg of each clip overlies said bottom wall and said base leg overlies said lid sidewall.

With respect to the material of the box and clips, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the material of the box and clip, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Shown are boxes and clips analogous to applicant's instant invention.
